DEMAND FOR FARM LOAN WAIVER

Poor response to BJP's call for 'voluntary' bandh

Mysuru, May 28 (RK&PM)- The Opposition BJP's appeal to farmers and the public to 'voluntarily observe a State-wide bandh' today to demand the H.D. Kumaraswamy led new Congress-JD(S) coalition government to announce farm loan waiver, evoked poor response in the city as educational institutions, commercial establishments, business houses, cinema halls, petrol bunks, public offices and the like functioned as usual.

The BJP, which had initially given the bandh call on Friday last if Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy did not waive crop loans within 24 hours, later changed track saying it was only 'supporting a voluntary bandh call' given by the farmers.

However, BJP leaders and activists fanned out across the city to get support for the bandh.

MP Pratap Simha, accompanied by several local BJP leaders, gathered in front of KSRTC bus depot in Bannimantap early this morning to stop buses from moving out of the depot.

However, the Police prevented the MP from doing so. Pratap Simha was later taken into custody by the Police.

Meanwhile, the newly-elected Chamaraja Constituency MLA L. Nagendra along with several party activists converged at KSRTC Sub-urban bus stand and attempted to stop buses from plying. But the Police foiled their attempt by taking them into custody.

KR Constituency MLA S.A. Ramdas too joined the protest at city bus stand near K.R. Circle and along with the party workers tried to stop city buses from operating. The Police, however, thwarted their efforts by taking them away in a Police vehicle.

In another protest in support of the bandh, over a hundred BJP activists led by City BJP President Dr. B.H. Manjunath staged a demonstration at Gandhi Square.

Even as some of the activists were raising slogans demanding farm loan waiver, the rest of the activists attempted to forcibly close down shops and other commercial establishments in the vicinity, when they were taken into custody by the Police, who were present in large numbers in the wake of bandh call.

Within minutes of Police vehicle carrying BJP workers left the protest venue, another group of BJP workers led by Corproator M.V. Ramprasad arrived at Gandhi Square and attempted to close down shops.

However, the Police foiled their plans, it is learnt.

The bandh had little impact on normal life in the city as KSRTC, private buses and other public vehicles plied as usual. There were no untoward incidents reported from any part of the city.

Newly-elected Congress MLA

Siddu Nyamagouda dies in road accident

BJP calls off bandh in Bagalkote as a mark of respect

Bagalkote, May 28- Former Union Minister and newly-elected Congress MLA Siddu B. Nyamagouda (70) died in a road accident in the district in the wee hours of today, a senior Police official said.

The MLA was returning from Goa to his Constituency Jamkhandi when he met with an accident near Tulasigeri at about 4.30 am. The incident occurred after the left tyre of the Innova car, in which he was travelling, burst and the car rammed into a road side parapet wall. He died on the way to the hospital.

Siddu B. Nyamagouda

The MLA was in New Delhi and had returned to Goa by flight before he proceeded to his Constituency by car, according to the Police.

He leaves behind his wife, two sons and three daughters.

Siddappa Bhimappa Nyamagouda was one of the 78 Congress MLAs, who was elected to the Karnataka Assembly in May 12 polls. He was also a contender for a Ministerial berth in the new Congress-JD(S) government headed by Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy.

Learning by unlearning

At least two features of the sector of technical education in the land raise many questions. Graduates of the IITs that were established a few decades ago are known to have moved abroad in search of and succeeding in landing jobs on a large scale not only getting them fat pay cheques but also, more importantly, earning recognition of their skills by the employers. Graduates of engineering colleges across the country, numbering more than one lakh annually, barring those trained in the few reputed institutions, including Mysuru, have not found employment to the extent of more than half their number, solely and may be because the verdict of the industry sector hints at the unemployability of these engineering graduates. India's engineering education sector as well as the colleges that mushroomed in hundreds of numbers more as an investment proposition than for creating engineering skill-set in the graduates witnessed abrupt closure of the institutions across the country leaving a debris-like mass of infrastructure.

The honchos of the nation's industry houses as well as their various agencies in the corporate world such as the CII and FICCI are known to have sounded the government through its agency AICTE about the urgency of raising the standards of engineering education with the often publicised message that the engineering graduates of the country were indeed not industry-ready. The alert seems to have aroused the sector, although belatedly.

While the track record of India's engineers, of the past era, trained abroad as well as the few indigenous engineering colleges, including the three of them in the erstwhile princely State of Mysore, did earn for them well-deserved credit for their work of building dams and establishing industries producing virtually every product that was earlier met by imports. The later batches of engineering graduates cannot be faulted for receiving engineering education largely based on rusted curriculum unmatched by global advances in technology, barring the older IITs and also IISc., Bengaluru. Call it a paradox or otherwise, that India's engineers earned for the country a top spot in space research and computer software applications while they lagged behind the world in other areas of industry.

Now, going by a news item published by a widely read daily early last week, the spotlight has turned on the faculty of engineering colleges in a measure for honing the skills of engineering students, through sharpening the skills of the teaching faculty. The initiative of the Visvesvaraya Technological University, facilitating the lecturers to take internships for at least two months during vacations augurs well for the entire sector of engineering education as well as India's industry sector.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Across the country, Governors live in palatial homes, served by a large and liveried staff and a grand lifestyle which is a drain on the tax-payer's humble lifestyle. Recently, Karnataka Governor Vajubhai Vala showed he is no ordinary Raj Bhavanwala. Instead, he's willing to unleash Governor Raj to protect and help his erstwhile political colleagues because just as saas bhi kabhi bahu thi, Governor bhi kabhi neta the. The question is, are Governors ungovernable? The Governor rules without accountability when Article 356 or President's Rule is imposed on a State. That's the time the Governor becomes important but President's Rule sometimes means Governor's misrule. In any case, does India really need Governors? Or is it time to say, go!-vernor? Sometimes Governors have been caught with not even the Constitution for cover. Remember how Andhra Pradesh Governor N.D. Tiwari was discovered practising his personal version of Article 356 without any articles of clothing, in the company of lovely ladies on whom he was trying to enforce Governor's rule? Are Raj Bhavans often not Swaraj Bhavans? Ah, these latter day Viceroys and their vices! — Sagarika Ghose in The Times of India.

World's longest deep-fried pizza

Naples: A team of 100 pizza makers in Italy set a new Guinness World Record for making the longest Neapolitan fried pizza.

The pizza makers constructed the fried pizza -- which is composed of a circular closed dough with cheese, sauce and toppings inside -- and dipped it into boiling oil in Naples to create the 23.5-foot-long pizza.

The "pizzaioli" contained 183 pounds of flour, 110 pounds of mozzarella cheese, 33 pounds of ricotta cheese and 15 pounds of tomato sauce.

The team of pizza-makers said the record was a matter of pride, as the previous record was held by pizza makers in Milan.

Upside-down for Spider-Man promposal

Oregon: A high schooler donned a Spider-Man costume and dangled upside-down to pull of an elaborate Marvel-themed promposal.

Adam Hazelton's promposal went viral after photos posted to Twitter captured him hanging upside-down from a rope and asking his girlfriend, Jenna McIntosh, to be his date to the North Medford High School prom.

Hazelton said he ended up dangling for an extra seven minutes while waiting for McIntosh to come outside.

"I was like no, I'm going to have to get down and all of the blood is going to rush to my head, but it was Jenna being Jenna and she came outside and saw the poster and said yes," Hazelton said.

"I was really surprised," she said. "He told me he was going to do something big, but I didn't think he was actually going to do anything that big. I thought by big, he was going to do a poster or something," McIntosh said.

New Delhi to be world's most populous city by 2028: UN Report

New Delhi, May 28 (UNI)- By the year 2050, 68% of the world's population will live in urban areas, the United Nations (UN) said on Wednesday. This boom is expected to be concentrated in India, China and Nigeria, according to a report on the world's urbanisation prospects released by the Population Division of the UN Department of Economic and Social Affairs.

"Projections show that urbanization — the gradual shift in residence of the human population from rural to urban areas — combined with the overall growth of the world's population could add another 2.5 billion people to urban areas by 2050, with close to 90% of this increase taking place in Asia and Africa," the United Nations said in a release.

India, China and Nigeria are expected to account for 35% of this projected growth in urban population from 2018 to 2050. "By 2050, it is projected that India will have added 416 million urban dwellers, China 255 million and Nigeria 189 million," the release said.

As of 2018, there are 4.2 billion people living in urban areas worldwide, an immense increase from the 751 million in 1950. Of the 4.2 billion, Asia accounts for 54% of urban dwellers, followed by Europe and Africa, with 13% each.

Delhi to overtake Tokyo

New Delhi will become the world's most populated city around 2028, the report said. Tokyo, with 37 million people, is currently the most populated city, followed by New Delhi with 29 million, Shanghai with 26 million and Mexico City and Sao Paulo, each with around 22 million dwellers. Cairo, Mumbai, Beijing and Dhaka all have close to 20 million inhabitants.

"By 2020, Tokyo's population is projected to begin to decline, while Delhi is projected to continue growing and to become the most populous city in the world around 2028," it said. Around the same time, India is expected to slip past China to become the most populous country.

Decline by 2050

The report also projected that the world's population itself will peak in a few years and decline by 2050. Some cities in Japan, North Korea, Poland, Romania, the Russian Federation and Ukraine have already lost population since 2000, it said, citing reasons such as poor economy, natural disasters, low fertility and emigration.

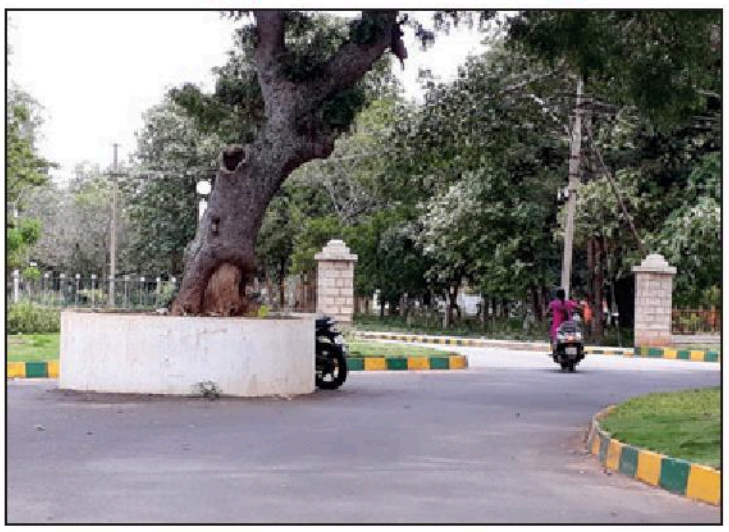
Unscientific Circle in Gangothri campus



Sir,

The University of Mysore is one of the oldest and best Universities in India. We are all proud of such an institution being in Mysuru.

I happened to visit Manasagangothri campus last week. I went near the Buddha statue next to PG Hostel. A Circle has been created and at the centre the statue of Buddha is situated. It is an eye-catching statue. But the Circle's design is not up to the standard and very inconvenient to vehicle-users.

Moreover, there is a big tree in the middle of the road itself! I could not believe that the tree has been left as it is in the middle of the road which forms the Circle! I heard that this tree has been left there since 2 years!

How come the University authorities have still not taken note of this dangerous spot? If the intention is not to cut this tree, then they can go for transplanting, so that the Circle becomes danger-free.

I hope the authorities concerned will look into this and initiate appropriate measures at the earliest.

Indebted to Congress, not people of State: HDK

Bengaluru, May 28- Stating that he was not indebted to six-and-a-half crore people of the State, but indebted to the Congress, which made him the Chief Minister, H.D. Kumaraswamy has said that he will resign from his post if he failed to waive crop loans within a week.

Speaking to press persons after offering floral tributes to the portrait of late Prime Minister Jawharlal Nehru on his 54th death anniversary at Vidhana Soudha here yesterday, Kumaraswamy sought a week's time to waive off farm loans.

Appealing the farmers not to commit suicides, HDK reiterated that he will resign on his own in case he failed to waive off farm loans and that he don't want anybody pressurising him to quit.

Making an appeal to the farmers of the State not to commit suicides, Kumaraswamy said that he would honour his commitment.

H.D. Kumaraswamy

Attacking State BJP Chief and Opposition leader B.S. Yeddyurappa and a section of farmer representative, Kumaraswamy said that he does not want any farmer organisation to exert pressure on him.

Maintaining that he will not stick to the seat of power, the CM asked Yeddyurappa to stop provoking farmers.

JD(S) Supremo should teach HDK on making public remarks: Vedike

Shivakumar

Bengaluru-based Jayaprakash Narayan Vichara Vedike has taken strong exception to HDK's remark that he was indebted to the Congress.

In a press statement, the Vedike President B.M. Shivakumar said that Kumaraswamy must understand that he was functioning as the Chief Minister of Karnataka, which has a population of over six crore and not of the Congress party.

Claiming that Kumaraswamy's remark was shameful, he said that JD(S) Supremo H.D. Deve Gowda should teach Kumaraswamy on making public remarks.

Maintaining that people will question Kumaraswamy and not the Congress if he fails to meet his pre-poll promises, Shivakumar observed that HDK should not have made the promise on farm loan waiver, if he was unable to do so.

He further said that Kumaraswamy had insulted the people of the State by his unwarranted remark.

Kumaraswamy, who reviewed the financial position of the State during a meeting with officials on May 23, held a meeting with retired IAS Officer Subramanya on Sunday to weigh the pros and cons of waiving crop loans.

Brahmana Sanghas felicitate MLA Ramdas

Mysuru, May 28 (SBD&US)- Akhila Karnataka Brahmana Mahasabha (AKBMS), Mysuru City and District Brahmana Sangha and Brahmana Sanghagala Okkuta had jointly organised a function at Krishna Dhama in Saraswathipuram here yesterday to felicitate MLA S.A. Ramdas, who was elected recently in the Assembly polls with a wide margin.

Sri Vidyahamsabharathi Swamiji of Ambavana Kshetra, Pandavapura and Sri Vidyamanoharatheertha Swamiji of Sosale Vyasaraja Mutt graced the occasion and blessed Ramdas.

Speaking on the occasion, Sri Vidyamanoharatheertha Swamiji said that Ramdas' victory indicated that unity is strength and asked the community members to stay united and support Ramdas throughout his tenure.

Addressing the gathering, Sri Vidyahamsabharathi Swamiji opined that Shankracharya Mutt, Madhvacharya Mutt and Ramanujacharya Mutt should not be viewed as three separate entities.

He emphasised that Mutts were just places for students and not the abode of yathis. He asked the people to shun superstitions and accept realities.

AKBMS President K.N. Venkatanarayana, who also spoke, expressed happiness in 12 Brahmins getting elected as MLAs and asked all of them to strive for the welfare of people in general without any bias.

Thanking the voters of K.R. Constituency for electing him with a wide margin, Ramdas, who spoke after being felicitated, assured to live up to the expectations and strive for the welfare of the people.

District Brahmana Sangha President D.T. Prakash, AKBMS State Secretary N. Srikanta Kumar, Sri Ilai Alwar Swamiji, Dr. Bhanuprakash Sharma, retired Dean of MMC&RI Dr. Geetha Avadhani, Corporators M.V. Ramprasad, Seema Prasad and others were present.

MLA S.A. Ramdas, who was feted by Brahmana Sanghas at Krishna Dhama in Saraswathipuram yesterday, is seen with Sri Vidyahamsabharathi Swamiji, Sri Vidyamanoharatheertha Swamiji and others.

Ministry formation becoming headache for Congress

New Delhi, May 28- The much awaited Cabinet expansion of Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy-led coalition government in the State is getting longer as the discussions by the Congress leaders here with the High Command with regard to sharing of portfolios remained inconclusive.

Even after camping in Delhi for two days and holding discussions with All India Congress Committee (AICC) President Rahul Gandhi twice, the Congress leaders are worried that nothing came out of the meeting.

Meanwhile, Rahul Gandhi left for the US with his mother Sonia Gandhi on Sunday night. Sonia Gandhi will undergo a medical check-up in the US.

Addressing reporters in New Delhi yesterday, former CM and Congress Legislature Party Leader Siddharamaiah said that the list of Congress Ministers would be finalised by next week.

One of the main fights is for the second Deputy Chief Minister's (Dy.CM) post.

Several leaders including D.K. Shivakumar, Shamanur Shivashankarappa, M.B. Patil, Satish Jarkhiholi and S.R. Patil have thrown their hat into the ring. However, a decision has been taken that since Chief Minister Kumaraswamy belongs to the Vokkaliga community, another person from the same community cannot be given the second Deputy Chief Minister's post.

As the competition by the remaining leaders has intensified, Rahul Gandhi is learnt to have questioned the need for another Dy.CM's post. As the leaders are haggling over the 23 Cabinet posts left for the Congress, it is becoming difficult to arrive at a consensus.

The leaders are also said to have held discussions with Congress Supremo Sonia Gandhi. However, a final call with regard to Ministry formation will be taken only after Rahul Gandhi returns from his the US trip, it is said.

Vaastu-Feng Shui & Bio-energetics

By S.B.S.Surendran
Accredited Master Feng Shui Consultant

Prosperity Flow

It's a common understanding in the science of Feng Shui that every person, place and thing is alive with the universal energy called 'Chi.' The art and science of Feng Shui also further validates the fact that everything is connected by this vital energy which is constantly changing and energy vibrates and pulsates.

By understanding this basic aspect of Feng Shui and when we create the right environment by integrating the Feng Shui principles into our life, our vision, perspective, feel and interaction with the world gets powerful and better.

This ancient science dating back to over 4000 years and since then in many parts of the Eastern hemisphere has aided and helped in building up the most appropriate environment for harmonious life. The fundamental principle of the art of Feng Shui is said to be the art of placement and arrangement of space to achieve harmony with your environment.

Based on influencing the flow of Chi or energy through your home and other aspects of your environment, Feng Shui principles align energy patterns with healing forces of nature. The result is a harmonious home that lays the foundation for emotional, spiritual, and physical health.

Metaphorically speaking, Feng Shui is to a house what acupuncture is to a body. When correctly applied, Feng Shui is a tool that can correct problem areas, such as ill-health, strained relationships, or difficulties with children. The most ideal situation according to the Feng Shui design would be to define the power areas first and to design the whole house around them. It would be in your best interests to apply Feng Shui and Vaastu from the inception to have the best design in your house.

The areas where you are likely to spend most of your time are the best power areas. These areas need to be the centre of focus and then you can have the whole house designed around it.

Feng Shui can be a design tool of Interior Design providing methods to change your surroundings, to create harmony and balance in your living and working environment. One of the methods to enhance the feel of your space through Feng Shui is using bright objects to enhance the energy flow.

Objects like glass, mirrors, crystals and anything with a shiny metal surface activates the energy especially if you have dark and gloomy corners in your home or office.

When Feng Shui principles based on accurate compass readings and a variety of specific calculations are applied, they can indeed activate your Human and Earth Luck and help you achieve your personal and professional goals with less resistance and obstacles.

• Maximise unused spaces with attractive storage and shelving.

• Placing Glass shelves in a window also lifts the energy and when you add a shade of blue and green glass candle holders or glass bottles, it transforms the energy of the place.

• Demarcate each area of the space by using floor finishes like a rug, installing screens or sliding doors, or carefully position the furniture.

This tradition, called Feng Shui, is both, an art and a science that aims to ensure that all things are in harmony with their surroundings. Its application ranges from planning entire cities and empires to placing a guest at the dinner table; from the orientation of high-rise office buildings, to the interior decoration and furnishing of a house or a room.

As a solo performer, he has performed extensively in many of the major Sabhas of the State, country and abroad. He has also performed for AIR, Doordarshan and other popular TV channels.

And as an accompanying artiste, he has accompanied most of the reputed artistes in various dance forms like Bharatanatyam, Kathak, Mohiniyattam, Kathakali, Kuchipudi, Yakshagana, Kavya Vaachana etc.

He has composed music for many dance ballets, devotional music albums and organised music for many dramas including the 'Mandhra', 'Yegdagella aithe', 'Santha Saakshaathkaara' to name a few.

Venugopal runs a music school called 'Gokulam School of Music' in Bengaluru.

The annual dawn to dusk cultural extravaganza 'Kalaarnava' organised by HSV has become one of the most celebrated music festivals in town.

• Ravichandra Kulur was initiated into Karnatak classical music at the age of six. He initially took up the mridanga and the kanjira under the guidance of guru E.P. Narayana Pishardi.

His father, Prof. K. Raghavendra Rao was a respected flautist at the time. Regularly practicing under his father's guidance, Ravi started performing duets with his father and even held solo concerts. During his days at college, Ravi developed a keen interest in other forms of music, experimenting with fusion and world music and discovering Jazz and broadening his knowledge of classical music to include Hindustani classical as well as Karnatak.

After completing his Bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering, Ravi worked for few years all the while nurturing his classical flute-playing and in 1999, he decided to take up music professionally.

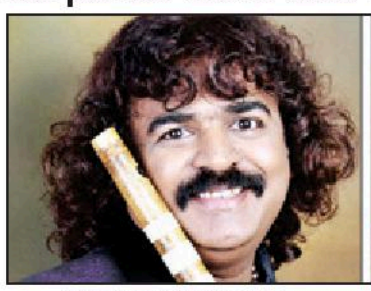
200th Moonlight Music at Suttur Mutt tomorrow
A blessing to the performers and the audience

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan



Praveen Godkhindi

Jayanthi Kumaresh

Mysuru, the most significant city and the cultural capital of Karnataka, lends its name to its unique cultural heritage, architecture, literature and music in addition to Mysore Paintings, ivory work and Mysore Silk sarees. Mysuru had been the capital city of the Wadiyars who ruled the Mysore Kingdom. Throughout the rule of the Wadiyar dynasty, crafts and arts attained its peak and therefore the city subsequently developed into the cultural capital. The Wadiyars who ruled Mysore for over six centuries had been incredible patrons of art and culture.

Suttur Mutt, Mysuru, is a reflection of the rich heritage of Mysuru. The Mutt has grown over the centuries to be a multi-dimensional religious, cultural and educational movement. Spearheading the Mutt's educational initiatives is JSS Mahavidyapeetha (JSS MVP), founded by the 23rd Pontiff, Jagadguru Dr. Sri Shivarathree Rajendra Swamiji.

The variety cultural events offered by the Mutt is a testimony to its profoundness. On every fullmoon day, the Mutt organises music programs. A divine ambience is created on the stairs of the holy river. A delightful stage with a grand wooden covering is offered to the artistes who perform here. In the presence of Sri Shivarathree Deshikendra Swamiji who has made this possible, under the silvery light of the charming full moon spread around, the audience enjoy the music in the open air, savouring the soft cool breeze.

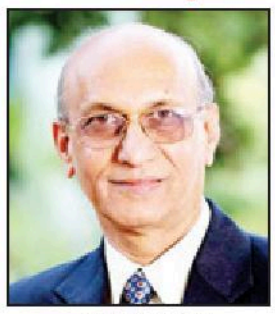
The Mutt is open to all kinds of music — Hindustani and Karnatak classical, light classical devotional music, jugalbandis, light music and western music. Instrumental music is also being encouraged here. While almost all the top local artistes have performed here, artistes from Bengaluru, Chennai and other parts of India have deemed it a dream-come-true to perform in this holy ambience. So far, 199 music programmes have been organised here successfully.

Senior and popular artistes like Pandit Venkatesh Kumar, Maharajapuram Ramachandran, Vidya Bhushan, Mysore M. Nagaraj and Dr. Manjunath, Bellary M. Raghavendra, Sukanya Prabhakar, M.S. Sheela, T.S. Satyavati, Neela Ramgopal, Vinay Sharva, Trichur V. Ramachandran have performed here.

The Math is happy to celebrate its 200th music programme now.

On May 29, flautist Praveen Godkhindi and Jayanthi Kumaresh on veena will present a jugalbandi. They will be accompanied by Vid. Jayachandra Rao on mridanga and Pt. Udayraj Karpoor on tabla.

'Venu Brahma' title recipient



Raj Narayan'

From Tanpura to Jaguar, Raj Narayan's Radel uses microprocessor digital technology. He was a performing musician, having played the flute at the national level on radio, and had developed an electronic sruti box.

Thus was born his first venture in 1979 — Radel Systems that later became Radel Electronics, which makes electronic sruti box, digital tanpura, digital tabla and talam meter.

Raj Narayan, hailing from a family of musicians, got fascinated by aeronautics as a child and wanted to be an aerospace engineer. Narayan, who on graduating in electrical engineering from BMS, Bengaluru, wanted to do a Master's from the IISc, but was told by its then Director Satish Dhawan that he did not qualify as he was not a rank holder.

Seeing his enthusiasm, Dhawan suggested Narayan to join public sector HAL. Narayan was in HAL's design department, but within 10 years he found it frustrating. During his stint at HAL, he also obtained a Master's in electronics from IIT-Madras.

With his exposure to electronics and of integrated circuits and miniaturised high-reliability design, Narayan realised that he had to branch out into a commercial consumer-oriented industry. It is this business that also helped him branch out into making aircraft parts for the Defence sector. All the products were designed in-house by him.

Later, Radel started recruiting engineers and training them. The engineers could not relate to the work they were doing as most of them did not have a background in music. Even though the instruments adopted embedded software design and applications, it did not appeal to engineers.

Electronic design was his forte and he floated Radel Advanced Technology Pvt. Ltd., to tap opportunities in the Defence sector. Both the companies share infrastructure in Bengaluru's Electronics City.

Musicians need to be more tech savvy, says inventor of e-musical instruments. An accomplished flautist, Narayan was attracted to finding an electronic solution to his problems of practising classical Karnatak music at home in 1970.

This resulted in the development of his first home-built electronic sruti box, which was demonstrated along with electric veena in 1971, subsequently Digital Veena synthesiser.

Traffic situation on Sayyaji Rao Road turning worse

With no secured barricades, the traffic on the busy Sayyaji Rao Road is going from bad to worse nowadays as motorists move the barricades to cross over to the other side thus risking not only their lives but also the lives of others. The public have urged the authorities concerned to put an end to this menace at the earliest.

Will this oxygen supplier at Railway Station survive ?

This helpless tree at Mysuru Railway Station has been cemented completely around its perimeter impractically, leaving no space for water to percolate or air to enter the roots. How can this tree possibly survive in this hot summer with little or no water? This will lead to the tree suffocating and dying a slow death. Isn't this the murder of an oxygen supplier? questions a reader of SOM who sent us this picture. The Railway Authorities are urged to take steps and remove the concrete to give space to the tree to breathe and water to enter the roots.

12 new e-Toilets to come up in city

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

A e-toilet installed on Devaraj Urs Road. [Pic. by Pragathi Gopalakrishna]

Mysuru, May 28- Mysuru city which had to be satisfied with the top cleanest city tag in the medium category in the country, is all set to add 12 new e-Toilets shortly.

During the Swachh Survekshan survey conducted last year, 15 new e-toilets had been installed. The public, tourists and the locals are using this facility since the past one year. As nearly 60 to 70 people use each toilet every day, it was decided to install them in other places in city.

The main aim of installing more e-toilets is to see that in the next Swachh Survekshan the city truly becomes open-defecation-free which in turn will help in improving the rankings.

Totally there are 15 e-toilets in city including three e-toilets on Devaraj Urs Road, two near Apollo Hospital, two near Sham Studio and one each near Sangam Theatre, Makkaji Chowk, Mysuru Zoo and Chamundipuarm.

New technology: Electronic toilets or e-toilet is one of the major innovations in public hygiene, health and sanitation sector. This type of toilet can be used by inserting Re.One, two, five or ten rupee coins. If there is shortage of a particular coin, any one of the denominations can be used to open the door.

However, if a person is already using the toilet, then the door will not open at any cost. As the door is programmed with a sensor, it will not open once a person is inside. Another advantage is the moment a person comes out after using the toilet, it will be cleaned instantaneously and hence, a person who uses it next can do it without a feeling of disgust.

Each e-toilet will cost Rs.7,000 and it is built in a 3 ft.X6 ft. area. It is installed conveniently close to the footpaths. A survey has already been conducted by Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and Drainage Board to see where e-toilets could be installed.

In the next one week e-toilets will be ready and by the end of the next month, all 12 of them will be installed for public use.

It was found that the 15 e-toilets installed last year was not only being used by the public but also by the tourists visiting the city every day. Hence, we found the necessity for a few more e-toilets and therefore, 12 new e-toilets are being installed after identifying proper places. Since cleanliness has been given a lot of importance, people are using it without any hesitation.

'Come up with concrete proposals on development'

Mysuru, May 28 (RK&DM)- Former MLC D. Madegowda has asked newly-elected Chamaraja BJP MLA L. Nagendra to come up with concrete proposals on development and make honest efforts to implement them. Addressing a gathering of party workers to felicitate Nagendra at a function hall in Vijayanagar here on Saturday, Madegowda wished that Nagendra would meet the aspirations of the people of the constituency who have elected him with a huge margin.

Speaking after receiving felicitation, Nagendra said that there is a huge responsibility on him for facilitating the victory of BJP nominees in the upcoming Legislative Council polls from South Teachers Constituency that covers Mysuru, Mandya, Chamarajanagar and Hassan districts, where B. Niiranjana Murthy is the party nominee and thus further strengthen the hands of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Pointing out that he eyes future poll victories, the newly-elected Chamaraja MLA also vouched to work for the victory of at least 15 candidates in 21 Wards coming under the ambit of his Assembly constituency in the MCC elections scheduled to take place later this year and also for the 2019 LS polls.

Appealing the party workers not to get disappointed over the recent developments in the State, especially when the unholy and opportunistic Congress-JD(S) combine is at the helm, Nagendra extended confidence that State BJP Chief B.S. Yeddyurappa will become CM of the State again in six months.

Mysuru, May 28 (SPN&NNN)- The threat of Nipah virus which has claimed 14 lives in Kerala and has also entered Karnataka is a cause for concern and to mitigate the fears of the people, an awareness programme was conducted by Karnataka Rakshana Vedike (KRV) at Cheluvamba Park, here yesterday.

District President of KRV and BJP leader K. Madesh launched the programme. The members distributed pamphlets describing in details about Nipah virus, to the people who had come to the Park for exercise.

Later, speaking to Star of Mysore, Madesh said that the members would conduct awareness programme twice a day and also highlight to the people not to eat fruits sold on the street. Awareness programme was also held in the park in Gokulam.

WORD OF THE DAY

Petard

Pronunciation: pe·tard \ pə-ˈtär(d).

Meaning: A small bomb made of a metal or wooden box filled with powder, used to blast down a door or to make a hole in a wall. A kind of firework that explodes with a sharp report.
Origin: Aside from historical references to siege warfare, and occasional contemporary references to fireworks, "petard" is almost always encountered in variations of the phrase hoist with one's own petard, meaning "victimised or hurt by one's own scheme." The phrase comes from Shakespeare's Hamlet: "For 'tis the sport to have the enginer / Hoist with his own petar." "Hoist" in this case is the past participle of the verb hoise, meaning "to lift or raise," and "petar(d)" refers to an explosive device used in siege warfare. Hamlet uses the example of the engineer (the person who sets the explosive device) being blown into the air by his own device as a metaphor for those who schemed against Hamlet being undone by their own schemes. The phrase has endured, even if its literal meaning has largely been forgotten.

THE ODD WORD

Cantillate

To chant or intone a passage of religious text.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Blow one's own trumpet

Meaning: To boast about one's own achievements.

Origin: The term in its present form is 19th century. Anthony Trollope, in his work Australia and new Zealand, 1873 observed: "In the colonies... when a gentleman sounds his own trumpet he 'blows.'" That is clearly commenting on what must already have been a well-known phrase, although there aren't known printed citations to support that from before 1873. The use of 'blows' is interesting too, as that matches the current US use as a slang term to describe anything bad or worthless. Much earlier, there is an example of what appears to be the same meaning as blowing your own trumpet, from Miles Coverdale's The second tome or volume of the Paraphrase of Erasmus upon the Newe Testament, 1549: "Let them never so muche with their blasyng wordes boaste themselves." Blasing is no longer used in that context, but in the 16th century is thought to have meant boastful.
